A sales sensation in the mid-1990s, "The Celestine Prophecy" offered introductory New Age metaphysics packaged in pulp thriller form.

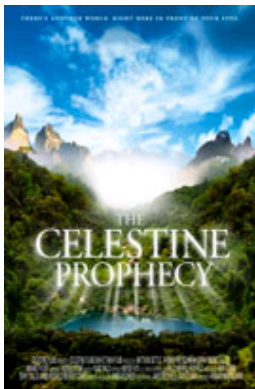

Those who already "get it" will find a simplified but affirming illustration of their higher beliefs in the film.

Prior converts will be pleased if not quite thrilled by a reasonably faithful, compact screenplay adaptation; direction of telepic veteran Armand Mastroianni; ...and Thomas Kretschmann ("King Kong," "Downfall," "The Pianist") comes off best, mixing dash and humor with a credible spark of enlightenment.

Variety April 20, 2006
