The Frankfurt Summer School is...

- a week of seminars, workshops, lectures, readings and social get-togethers organized by students and for students
- an exploration of "arrivals" and "departures" in anglophone literatures and cultures
- your chance to meet and work but also to celebrate with students who share your interest in the New English literatures as well as with renowned scholars and prolific authors from all around the globe
- an event that breaks with some of the formalities of everyday university life but nevertheless offers you the chance to gain regular European Credit Points

Information on the programme, our academic and literary guests as well as on the registration procedure are available at our website. Student registration has already begun, and the number of participants is strictly limited. So what are you waiting for?
